The youth was identified as Carl W. Bush, 20, by Alderman Dudley Y. Schwab, before whom he was arraigned Monday night.

Check

Bush is accused by Chauncey L. Pfeiffer, Bangor RD 2, of making out a check to himself for $6 and signing Pfeiffer's name to it. The check, drawn on the First National Bank of Belvidere, N. J., allegedly was cashed March 10, 1956 at the Martins Creek roller center.

Schwab said Bush also is wanted by New Jersey authorities for the forgery of two other checks, one for $10 and one for $9.

Blood Coordinating Group To Meet At Mount Pocono

MOUNT POCONO—Monroe County Chapter will be host tonight at the quarterly meeting of the regional Red Cross blood program coordinating committee. A dinner at 6:30 p. m. here at Skyline Inn, will precede the meeting.

The program will deal with the summer slump in blood production a condition that is being experienced by virtually all of the chapters.

Outline

The outline followed by various units in recruiting blood donors is scheduled for discussion with Carlton Stauffer explaining the method used by the Pittston Chapter in improving its production. Dr. Gordon Bell, director of the regional program, and Conrad Favell, Hazleton, regional chairman, will take part in the program.

Charles R. Bensinger, Monroe County Chapter chairman, will welcome the guests to the Poconos.

More than 60 representatives from 34 chapters in the area served by the Red Cross Blood Bank at Wilkes-Barre have made reservations to attend the affair.

LeRoy Mikels, blood chairman of the Monroe County Chapter, is a member of the committee, which sets the policy for the regional blood program. A large representation from Monroe County will take part in the discussions.

We Doff Our Hats To Civil Defense For Its Many Fine Accomplishments

Monroe County is joining this week in the national observance of Civil Defense Week, first of its kind ever held.

Our people must know and understand Civil Defense, National C. D. Administrator Val Peterson said in explaining one purpose of the observance.

The most important basic instinct of every human being is survival. That is precisely what Civil Defense represents today. It is a dynamic concept of survival which is becoming a practical, everyday way of life.

It is much more than an organization designed to meet a nuclear war we pray never will occur. Recent natural disasters—flood, hurricane and tornado—have proved that our investment in Civil Defense has not been in vain.

But, if the catastrophe of nuclear war should strike this nation, C. D. provides the only organized means of survival. It offers the antidote to fear and panic through training and practice for self protection.

If You Aren't Registered, You Can't Cast A Ballot In November Election

For a number of years G. L. Smrz, plant manager of Line Material Co., East Stroudsburg, has conducted a double-barreled campaign of his own to persuade every eligible voter to qualify by registering and to cast a ballot on election day.

Nonpartisan in nature, the campaign is well thought out and we have no doubts about its success in hitting the targets it seeks out.

He has prepared and distributed a series of eight bulletins in his current efforts to interest more people to register before the September 17 deadline. The bulletins have gone out to plant employees and fellow citizens in the area.

With the last day to register less than a week away, we thought it appropriate to reprint the latest of the Smrz bulletins in the hope that it will encourage more residents to register and vote. Here it is:

HOW ABOUT YOU?

The political conventions are over. The nominations of both parties are made. You

Major objectives of Civil Defense are to plan and prepare now to work together for our common survival; show the public how to be ready to meet the threat of radioactive fallout, either by taking shelter or evacuating; stand prepared to help save lives and property in attacked cities, and care for people evacuated from target cities.

Rescue crews, fire-fighters, first-aid teams, auxiliary policemen, emergency vehicle crews—these and others must be trained to move at once in the event of an enemy attack or other emergency. The tasks are many and time-consuming, especially for busy people.

We salute the men and women of the Monroe County Civil Defense organization this week as they go into action to demonstrate their training achievements. We are a better community because of the fine job they have done to build up a sound, efficient force to deal with disaster. All of us would do well to extend all of the support and cooperation that Civil Defense demands in its tasks.

and your families and friends were actually there, even though you had no direct voice in the proceedings.

No doubt you have talked about what you saw on TV and read in the newspapers. You have certain ideas—certain beliefs. In fact, you may even be arguing the pros and cons of one party as opposed to the other.

But will you vote on election day November 6, 1956?

You can if you are registered. So can your friends and relatives if they too are registered.

Some good results are being obtained in Pennsylvania—one large county reports over 40,000 new registrations; a smaller county more than 20,000 added.

But, how about you?

This is your last chance to register before September 17, 1956. Don't delay. Urge your neighbors, friends and relatives to be sure to register.

So if the question is put to you: "How About You?" you can say, "I'm registered and so are my neighbors, relatives, and friends." Good luck!

Old Friends Drop In To Spoil A Saturday

Idealists may prefer to remember Alexander Graham Bell as a scientist whose consuming goal was to link East with West—by telephone. Others secretly wonder if he didn't invent the number phone arrangement for less altruistic reasons.

That is, maybe—after being deluged with folks dropping in unexpectedly—he invented the phone as a warning system that company's coming.

Ordinary courtesy indicates that Saturday morning might not be the best time to drop in with the wife and kids, unannounced. Etiquette demands that the off-putter and as off-regretted invite—"Next time you're in these parts, drop in and see us"—be confirmed by telephone.

"Sure, old Bill said it himself. Drop in anytime, he said, we'd love to have a good old-time visit." Old Bill said exactly that, but he was in West Texas at the time and not anticipating a literal application in Minneapolis.

Last Saturday wouldn't have been inconvenient, next Saturday wouldn't be awkward—but this Saturday! Mamma had just washed her hair because she didn't have time for the beauty parlor, what with Bobby's birthday party for 10 school pals, and then she had to run downtown quick to get the rolls for the dinner she and Pop were having for a few of their own pals, and—Yep, today was the day, all right. Everything seemed to have hit at once.

Including the other long gone pals just wheeling in the driveway. "Well, if it isn't old Bill. We thought of calling up, but like you said, we just decided to drop in and surprise you."

It's great to see old friends. Trouble is, the ones who will drop in, won't know when to leave any more than they knew when to come. And now, Amy Vanderbilt, what's the procedure for speeding the staying guest, hm?

Try and Stop Me

Tough old cool got fed up with having the wife rifle his pockets every night so he captured a couple of rattlesnakes, and slipped one deep into each pants pocket before climbing into bed.

His wife strolled in some minutes later, looking mighty riled. "Been digging for my money again, hey?" she asked with elaborate unconcern.

"Yeah, but you're even more broke than usual," she complained. "I looked in both your pockets and there's not a thing in them but snakes."

A kindly warden summoned a long-term prisoner and said, "Joe, frankly, you've got me concerned. You're the only one here who hasn't had a visitor this year. Haven't you any relative who cares about you?" "I got lots of 'em, Warden," maintained the prisoner. "But all of 'em's right in here for longer stretches than me!"

Happy Chandler Holds Key To Election In Kentucky

(Robert S. Allen is on vacation. During his absence, his column today is by Norman Isaacs, managing editor, Louisville Times, on the most unusual and one of the most crucial senatorial campaigns in the country this year. Much of Kentucky's seats are up for election, due to the death of Alben Barkley, and they are being fought for bitterly and strenuously. This senatorial struggle could decisively determine which party controls the next Congress. Mr. Isaacs is an outstanding newsman and editor and a recognized authority on Kentucky politics.)

By Norman Isaacs
Managing Editor
Louisville Times

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11 — The word for Kentucky's political outlook at this moment is perplexing.

Because of Alben Barkley's death last summer, Kentuckians will be voting in two U. S. Senate races. Both parties have put up their "fight" teams. Earle C. Clements, assistant majority leader of the Senate, is up against the young handsome Thurston Morton, strong Eisenhower supporter and a former assistant secretary of state, for the full six-year term.

For the unexpired part of Barkley's term, the Democrats have their former governor, the youthful, vigorous Lawrence Wetherby, who faces the G.O.P.'s best Kentucky vote-getter, former Senator John Sherman Cooper, who resigned as ambassador to India at the Administration's behest to try to capture the Barkley seat.

Adlai Stevenson took Kentucky by 700 votes in 1952. With the farmers hurting and with some spotty unemployment in the state, it could be assumed that the Democrats would run strong in 1956 on the national ticket. And with Clements and Wetherby on the ticket, it might also be assumed that normally Democratic Kentucky would stay in that column.

But the Democrats are none too sanguine. They have a massive headache in the form of a political feud which comes close to matching the legendary tales of Kentucky's past. The key figure in it is Governor Albert Benjamin (Happy) Chandler.

The former senator and baseball commissioner has been at odds with both Clements and Wetherby — and that is putting it in its mildest terms.

Chandler has said repeatedly of late that he will support the Democratic candidates. But his fellow Democrats note uneasily that at the national convention in Chicago (where he openly and vainly aspired to high office) he kept saying that Stevenson could not win in Kentucky — and he has often said the Democrats have put up their "weakest" man in Wetherby. Chandler never mentions Wetherby by name. He refers to him simply as "that other fellow."

The Governor controls the statehouse political machine — plus the state central committee. He can keep saying he is for the Democratic candidates, and still not lift a finger. And unless the state machine goes down the line for its candidates, Cooper and Morton (and Eisenhower) stand a very good chance of sweeping Kentucky into the Republican column, plus picking up two Senate seats — which could very well put the Senate into the G.O.P.'s hands.

The Republicans are naturally jubilant over what is transpiring, although they are trying hard to cloak their glee. They see in Chandler's intransigence their greatest weapon at the polls this coming November.

Cooper and Morton are already hard at work campaigning. They are attractive men, they are personally likeable and approachable, they are Republican liberals in the finest sense. Clements and Wetherby are struggling to keep them from making too many inroads in Democratic strongholds.

But fine race though it may be between four of the ablest men in Kentucky politics, it is overshadowed by the figure of the ambitious Happy Chandler. He bucked the Clements-Wetherby machine and beat their candidate for the governorship in the spring of 1955. He toured the state lambasting "Wetherby and Clements," as he chose to call them, and his references to Wetherby were so personal that there was always the chance of a fist fight should the two men meet face-on.

Earlier this summer, the state committee picked Wetherby to run for the Senate. Immediately after, Chandler, using every trick in the political book, swept control of the party's machinery and at one point talked vaguely of declaring the Wetherby choice null and void.

Victory for the two Democrats would pose a continuing threat to Chandler's role as kingpin of the state's machine. Their defeat would leave him in position to renew his claim they were the party's "weak sisters" — and he could continue his campaign for the White House.

Chandler's closest associates say that this is no mere dream. Reporters who interview him come away saying that Chandler is utterly convinced he has a great opportunity — and that he can be the party's nominee in 1960.

This is a prospect that gives many Kentuckians the shudders. But even these people concede that Chandler has a way with small town folk and the farmers, who love to hear him sing "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" and watch him shed tears during his speeches. His rivals refer to him scornfully as "Blubber Boy," but they privately admit that "Blubber Boy" is in perfect position at the moment to drive a knife into the back of the Democratic party in Kentucky.

Praise Due For Donor Of Blood

By Jim Riley

Monroe County may have put on its third straight dismal showing at the bloodmobile polls last Friday — but it was a big day for Howard Transue, who gave his 24th pint of blood over a period of several years.

Howard, a resident of 511 N. 5th St., Stroudsburg, received a "three-gallon" pin in recognition of his outstanding deed.

Everyone should offer his congratulations.

Transue works for Ronson Co.

John Lesoine and Granville Shiffer, both well known throughout Monroe County, recently completed a fishing trip in Canada.

They took off for an isolated portion of our northern neighbor and lived at a Ranger cottage.

One of the highlights of the trip came from reading signs in the area warning against forest fires.

The signs read, "This is God's Country. Don't Set Fires and Make It Look Like Hell."

We all should heed this advice.

Jack Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harmon, 907 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, recently returned from a cruise to Cuba.

Harmon is an ensign stationed aboard a training ship. The ship is currently at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Jack is a graduate of both Stroudsburg High and Penn State University.

Paul Goucher, who lives near the Highway Department Building on Route 611, is currently recovering from a recent illness.

Paul has been bothered with severe pains of the stomach and back.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stadden, Tannersville, will visit in Monroe, N. Y. on Saturday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brazina, Leicetown, Pa., visited Mr. and Mrs. Francis Phillips, Shawneetown-Delaware, last Sunday.

Bill, now in the insurance field, is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Mrs. Brazina was a nurse at the General Hospital while her husband was in college.

Clair Harps, former resident of Stroudsburg's Eighth St., is now employed at a milk concern in Philadelphia.

Harps recently visited friends and relatives in this area and witnessed the club championship golf tournament at Glen Brook Country Club.

Fred Waring and Poley McClintock were mentioned in the Smokey Stover comic strip in Sunday's papers. They were both supposed to be starring in a movie at a local theater.

Fred is conductor of the famed Pennsylvanians and Poley is one of the original members.

On Broadway

New York Novelties: Constance Brigham, a talented understudy, got bored waiting for Julie Andrews (leading duetist) of "My Fair Lady" to get sick... Constance resigned a few weeks ago... convinced Miss Andrews was too healthy...

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

A Date Of Importance: On the calendar it is just a day, Wednesday, and a date, September Twelfth. But it can be much more.

Into it the people of America can put the mood of the great days of religious faiths, by a general response to the Day of Prayer proclamation on by the President. This is not merely a sheet of paper bearing a White House seal. It is a call by the chief executive of a God-fearing nation emphasizing the need of spiritual dedication in an almost unprecedented time of peril. No casual routine response will be enough and it would seem up to every church, chapel and synagogue and every home office, factory and civic body to back up the call.

No one day is ample, of course. The "special day routine" has been cheapened by press agent and salespitch week after week for years, but a special Day of Prayer supplementing all other days of spiritual classification can be an uplifting event glorifying a people's search for Divine guidance through desperate hours.

In the day of an American there seems always to be time for sport, pleasure and profit; it is a day jammed up with feverish activities. The flood of special days—of tribute to Florida oranges, Idaho potatoes, sauerkraut, electric kitchens, bananas, frankfurters, house paints, etc., have made the "special day" routine seem cheap and trivial, but no American with a sense of gratitude can brush off a day of Prayer. We rather think September Twelfth will see millions of homes thumbing the family Bible for treasured psalms, calling the family together for a consecrated hour in the pattern of our forefathers and kneeling in solemn devotion to God. It would be good to hear the peal of church bells, the sound of organs and the voices of priests, pastors and rabbis, sweeping across plains, mountains, towns and cities, on National Prayer Day. TV and radio could aid as a far reaching voice of summons. And a people's prayer might be...

It's high time, oh Lord, that we got around to a special day far removed from the trivial. This is a day with worthy purpose. We give thanks for America, its opportunities, its privileges and its resources; for the inspiring example of the pioneers and patriots; for the valor of its countless boys on the battlefields of many lands.

YMCA Renews Efforts To Collect Building Pledges

RENEWED EFFORTS to collect approximately $15,000 in unpaid building fund pledges were authorized by the Board of Directors of the Monroe County YMCA last night.

The finance committee, headed by J. L. Cohen, will meet in the near future to consider ways of encouraging the early payment of the outstanding pledges.

Cohen reported that $25,000 must be raised by the end of this year for the association to qualify for the final $20,000 pledge made by the S. S. Kresge Foundation at the time the new building was being erected. The money will be used to pay off notes that were signed with the expectation that the pledges would be paid.

Some $16,000 in pledges have been approved for deletion as the result of deaths, moving from the community, loss of property and other reasons, Cohen reported.

In another action, the board elected by Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler as a director to fill the unexpired term of the late Roy M. Houser. The term runs to the end of 1958. Dr. Koehler is president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Merle C. Ostrom was appointed by J. Albert Groner, board chairman, to complete Mr. Houser's term as treasurer. The term ends Dec. 31, 1956.

Thomas L. Kistler, personnel committee chairman, reported that Mrs. Inger Miller had begun her duties as girls' and women's director at the county YMCA and that William McDonnell had been transferred to the position of executive of the Barrett Branch. Until a new youth director is elected to succeed Carlton C. Chopp, local instructors will be employed on a part-time basis, Kistler said.

Reporting for the Barrett Branch, Rev. J. Harold MacMurray said everyone is looking forward to a banner year under the direction of the new executive, McDonnell. The outdoor basketball court has been completed, and $50 was paid toward the cost of building a new roadway to the building. With $250 still due the contractor, the Barrett Branch has scheduled a card party for next Tuesday to help reduce the debt.

John R. Wilson, general secretary, reported the association building was used extensively during July and August despite the vacation season. Meetings were held there by a number of organizations and an art show was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Rugh.

McDonnell gave swimming lessons to more than 400 children and adults during the Summer, Wilson reported, and successful activities were sponsored for boys and girls.

The Summer Fun Club, an organization for girls eight to 14 years, attracted 47 girls during the four-week period. It was directed by Sandra Wertman.

The Day Camp enrolled 101 different boys, totaling 148 registrations for the four periods, under the supervision of Chopp.

Announcement was made that the Y Graduate Society will hold a state-wide convocation at the local building Oct. 13 and 14. Between 100 and 150 young women will attend the two-day meeting. The local Graduate chapter is sponsoring a fashion show Thursday night in the YMCA gym to raise money to underwrite the costs of the sessions.

Earl F. Groner, house committee chairman, reported he had inspected a bad drainage condition at the rear of the building and recommended immediate steps be taken to correct the condition. The matter was turned over to Edward C. Hess, a member of the board, to determine what action should be taken.

Introduced as a new director was John F. Hill, who was elected at the July meeting.

Grand Jury Indicts Eight Individuals Three Freed At Hearings Yesterday

EIGHT PERSONS yesterday were indicted on various offenses by a Monroe County grand jury, which failed to return true bills against three other persons.

The grand jury indicted the following: Patrick Boyle, Scranton, drunken driving; Paul W. Smith, East Stroudsburg Rd. 1, burglary and larceny; Charles D. Griffin, Bushkill, burglary and larceny; Mitchell Young (alias Jack Young), aggravated assault and battery; and Betty Counterman, assault and battery.

Indicted Indicted on charges of statutory rape were Harrison Moyer Jr., Pocono Pines; James Birtz, Tannersville, and Edward Smith, 150 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

The grand jury failed to indict three persons charged with involuntary manslaughter: Roland S. Cope Jr., James Martano, and Howard B. Powell.

TANNERSVILLE — Pocono Mountain Joint School Board meets tonight at 8 in Pocono High School.

All members of the eight boards which make up the jointure are urged to attend, according to David E. Nelson, secretary of the joint board.

Campaign For Mental Hospitals

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11 — A recruiting program to secure over 1,000 trained personnel for Pennsylvania's mental hospitals was opened today by Gov. Leader.

"Only through proper staffing of the state's 23 institutional establishments can the number of discharges be increased and the prospects of recovery and cure be raised," Leader said in a statement.

Bangor Area Joint School To Unfold 50-Piece Elementary-Prep Band At Second Grid Battle

BANGOR — More than one year ago, Kenneth Fritz, director of instrumental music in the Bangor Area Joint School System, made preparations for and started instruction for more than 60 children in the elementary schools of the system. This year the beginning fruits of that adventure in instrumental music will be presented in the form of the Elementary School or Prep Band.

On Friday, September 21, when the State Pickers of the Bangor Area High School clash with the Zinc Boro Boys of Catsaqua on the Bangor Memorial Park football field, Fritz will introduce this marching band and twirler unit to the general public for the first time.

The band is composed of pupils of the Columbus, Centerfield Roosevelt, McKinley and Lincoln Schools and numbers near the 50 mark. In addition to this band front composed of some 10 or 12 twirlers of the same schools will lead the new music array onto the Bangor greenward.

Rehearsals

Included in the band are both boys and girls, who have been rehearsing each week, at least once, for the past year. Now rehearsals for their presentation are being held twice a week and will continue to meet several times a week until the close of the current football season. This year again, Fritz started a second elementary band composed of some 40 budding musicians, who within the next year will become members of the present 50 piece Prep Band.

It was announced yesterday by Paul LaBar, faculty manager of athletics that the Prep Band will participate in three of the home football games this season in addition to the high school band. Fritz is being assisted in the music department by Miss K. Mae Eschenbach.

The itinerary for the present school year for the Prep Band includes, in addition to the football games, a concert in the auditorium of the Columbus School; second concert in the high school auditorium, provides music for the annual fair of the Roosevelt School; present several programs for the increasingly active Musiv Boosters Club of the Bangor Joint School System and participate in the annual Spring Musical Festival of the school system.

Viaduct Problem Aired At Gathering

should be moved east to a point near Gravel Place." He said that the company would voluntarily agree to relocate wire lines during actual construction.

The railroad's witness then set forth what appeared to be the Lackawanna's basic premise in conjunction with the current case: That the DL and W suffered "extensive damage" as a result of the Diane flood; that it had spent well over 7½ million dollars in restoring rights of way and bridges.

No Aid

The railroad, Byer noted, has received "no State or Federal aid" in making these repairs. At the same time, however, he said that "our chief competitors, the trucking firms" have access now to reconstructed highways and bridges which have been repaired through use of State and Federal funds coming from taxpayers. "The railroad pays taxes, too," he went on, "and as taxpayers we feel we have already done our part."

Byer continued that it is "no fault" of the DL and W when an "act of God" destroys a viaduct such as that one near Anasimink. Therefore, he said, the Lackawanna "will not volunteer to undertake any of the cost" for reconstruction.

Testifying for the county of Monroe, L. A. Achterman, county solicitor, said that the county "has prepared no plans" for reconstruction of the viaduct and is not prepared to contribute any amount to costs of rebuilding. He said that the county "has no objection to the tentative proposal of the Commonwealth as to location of the viaduct on or near its present site."

Attorney Grant Nittrauer presented the case for the supervisors of Stroud Township. He said that the township "cannot contribute" toward the cost and is "not in a position to state whether or not the location of the viaduct is good."

Nittrauer said that this choice should be "up to the State and DL and W."

Township supervisor board chairman Harold Albert said after the hearing, however, that the township was unopposed to the State's proposal to reconstruct the viaduct at its present location.

Bangor Auxiliary Of Elks Nominates Slate Of Officers

BANGOR—Officers were nominated by the Ladies of the Elks Auxiliary of Bangor Lodge 1106 during last night's meeting in the lodge hall. Mrs. Nellie Rice, president, was in charge.

Nominated were: Mrs. Ellen Williams, president; Mrs. Ann Powell, vice president; Mrs. Margaret Dursay, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ann Zelenka, recording secretary; Mrs. Edith Holland, treasurer; Mrs. Rice, chaplain; Mrs. Ethel Dennis, flag bearer; Mrs. Alvin Harris, color bearer; Mrs. Cula Wagner, historian; Mrs. Violet Wheeler, guard; Mrs. Iona Williams, pianist; and Mrs. Margaret Remagon, assistant.

Report Nominations followed a report by the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Wheeler. Elections will take place at the next assembly Oct. 9 when Mrs. Zelenka will serve as the refreshment committee chairman.

Mrs. Martha Owens, Mrs. Elaine Fritz and Miss Kathryn Shanahan were welcomed as new members. Mrs. Mildred Stoddard, Mrs. Elizabeth Albert, Mrs. Peggy Smale and Mrs. Woodrow W. Horn were appointed to a committee to plan for a banquet for out-going and incoming officers.

Purchase of an auxiliary flag for the lodge room was approved. Mrs. Violet Buskirk was reported a patient at the Easton Hospital. Opening prayer was by Mrs. Albert. Mrs. Williams, secretary, and Mrs. Retha Morris, treasurer, rendered statements. Mrs. Morris also spoke on improvements to the ladies lounge. Mrs. Helena Cowling reported for the ways and means committee.

Mrs. Beulah Litterly received the door prize. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Gertrude Kressler.

At the close of the brief hearing there was a short hassle over a minor detail. It centered around, oddly enough, whether the PUC ought to close the books on the present matter or whether the "books ought to be kept open." Attorney Mark Dolan, for the State, said keep them open. Attorney Joseph Kreder, DL and W, said close the books and let the PUC hand down an order of some sort.

Examiner Jenkins said he thought they ought to continue the case or the docket but that this phase was closed, finally, and eventually the three men agreed. That's where it was left. Jenkins announced that the hearing was ended. In a matter of minutes most of those who attended were out of the room and gone.

HAVE A HEART!

YOU wouldn't think a tack could cause much trouble.

But just recently a lineman fouled his climber on a staple, and in falling encountered more than one hundred nails and tacks that tore his arm so badly it needed 18 stitches.

Ironically enough, such accidents are most frequent when linemen work in emergencies at night — sometimes heroically in foul weather — to restore service to the very folks that cause the mishaps. And each year the accident records pile up . . .

falls when the lineman's climbing iron "cut-out" . . . cuts and abrasions from rusty nails . . . serious shock where nail-ripped gauntlets failed to protect against high-tension wires.

And, while it is now against the law to post placards on electric, telephone and telegraph poles, the real answer is in public understanding. It must be realized that it adds danger to the lineman's already hazardous job. So try to understand and heed the lineman when he says, "Have a heart . . . please post no bills."

PENNSYLVANIA POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

Ministers Welcomed By Association

BANGOR — Reverends Roland Catterall, of the Bangor Presbyterian Church; Henry G. Wells, of the Cherry Valley Methodist Church, and Stewart Bortner, of the Johnsonville and Stone Church Evangelical and Reformed Churches, were welcomed into membership at the luncheon meeting of the Ministerial Association of Bangor and vicinity at the Colonial Hotel yesterday.

A revised schedule for the 1956-57 series of Union Vesper services was accepted. The opening worship will take place Sunday, Sept. 30, at the Roseto Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Catterall will preach while the Rev. B. P. Gieske, pastor of the First United Evangelical Church, will assist.

Discussion A discussion on the program, Religion in American Life, was discussed. A nation-wide program of a non-denominational nature which will be carried out in November to spur church attendance, local business men will be invited to assist.

A Leadership Education program also is being considered. Also non-denominational, lay leaders and others in Bangor area churches will be asked to participate. It is possible that this venture will be launched next fall.

Sharp File Important If Work Is To Be First Rate

WHEN FILING metal, be sure to do all of the cutting with the forward motion of the file. If heavy pressure is used on the back stroke, it will close the file grooves by bending over the undercuts ridges. To clean a file or rasp, keep a file card (soft metal, brush-like tool) and a wire brush handy.

Pliers May Be Used As Vise

FOR TEMPORARY and emergency use, pliers can be adapted as a vise.

To do so cut a narrow slot in the workbench or table and fit into it the handles of a pair of either wrench or lock-grip pliers.

The slot in the bench should be just wide enough to accommodate the handles of the pliers, should be long enough to stop the pliers at the jaw-shoulders. Work can then be clamped into the pliers and the pliers can be dropped into the slot.

This will give excellent support for sawing, filing or drilling small parts and stock.

Aprons May Be Dangerous

THE FAMILIAR carpenter's apron is a wonderful garment, but it can be a deadly trap for the unwary amateur. It's as true a repository for nails, screws and other small objects. And it's all right for transporting tools from bench to job.

But, once work begins it is wise to remove all pointed objects of any length—screwdrivers, chisels, hand nails, even pencils. These things tend to get jammed around at odd angles and a sudden stoop or bend can result in a puncture of the person.

Hi-Fi Sets Need Special Home Setup

FOR TWO million sound-addicts, who take it in the ear, high fidelity is a way of life.

Hi-fi clubs in every major city gather for evening meetings and listen to the near-perfect reproduction of sound.

But audiophiles do not practice their ways in catacombs, the attic or a bedroom. They demand a room consecrated to sound.

Often, their wire, speakers, amplifiers and pre-amplifiers will turn a living room into a laboratory. One does not merely listen to high-fidelity sound. One has to live with it.

Basic Equipment

The basic equipment—speaker, amplifier, record player—can be camouflaged in many ways.

The most practical way of hiding a hi-fi set is to store it in a nearby closet. The speaker may then be mounted on the closet door. Another popular hideaway is the living room bookshelf.

Many companies manufacture hi-fi cabinets that can be blended easily into any decoration scheme. Doubt-yourselfers will discover all major plywood concerns distributing plans for hi-fi cabinets.

The speaker is usually placed in a corner of the room. Furniture should be arranged so that sound waves do not immediately bounce off flat surfaces. Heavily upholstered furniture will absorb sound waves and these pieces are generally located far from the mouth of the speaker.

Walls, drapery and carpetings must all be considered when installing a hi-fi set.

The minimum cost for such a set is about $150. The phonograph should run about $50, the amplifier $50, and the speaker $50. There is no maximum cost. Some sets run into thousands of dollars.

The beginner should plan on using at least two speakers. A 12-inch "woofer" reproduces low notes while a smaller "tweeter" is effective on higher ranges.

The result: Freedom from extraneous noises and distortion, full frequency of the human ear and the complete range of a symphony orchestra.

Place Ladder On Plank

IF YOU ARE planning to use a ladder on soft ground, rest the legs firmly on a piece of plank. A short length of 2 by 8 is best, and will supply adequate support for the heaviest weight.

To keep the legs on the plank, nail two or three strips of half-round molding lengthwise along the plank surface. The legs will rest between these and won't work their way off the wood.

Desk In Kitchen Growing Rapidly In Popularity Poll

A FEW YEARS back we might have laughed at the thought of a desk in the kitchen. Not today, though. It has become an important tool in the search for more efficiency in the kitchen.

The modern housewife is quite an executive. She plans her menus days ahead to save trips to the market. She efficiently plans ahead for her weekly activities around the home. She plans her outside church, club, and social activities. To do all of this she needs a home planning center in or near the kitchen, the center of her activities.

Depending on available space, the desk can be a simple folding table attached to the wall with a shelf or two above, or a more elaborate built-in unit with room for the telephone and drawers for household records, check book, cook books, and catalogs.

For good service and good looks combined, plus initial economy, one of the western pine woods is a good choice for such a project. These woods are easy to work, inexpensive, and readily available. There are many different varieties in clear or knotty grades to enhance any kitchen. They may be used with clear, stained or painted finishes.

Instructions For Brushes

PAINT brushes often lose their shape, or become bent when stored after use. After thoroughly cleaning the brush in solvent, wrap it in a piece of waxed paper, being careful to fold the paper over the bristles to maintain the square tapered shape. The brush will then dry into shape.

Naomi Lake Sailing Regatta

HOLD ON—A hard working pilot of one of the "dusters" is pictured above working desperately to keep his craft on course as it battles the winds that rolled over Naomi Lake during the course of the fourth annual event.

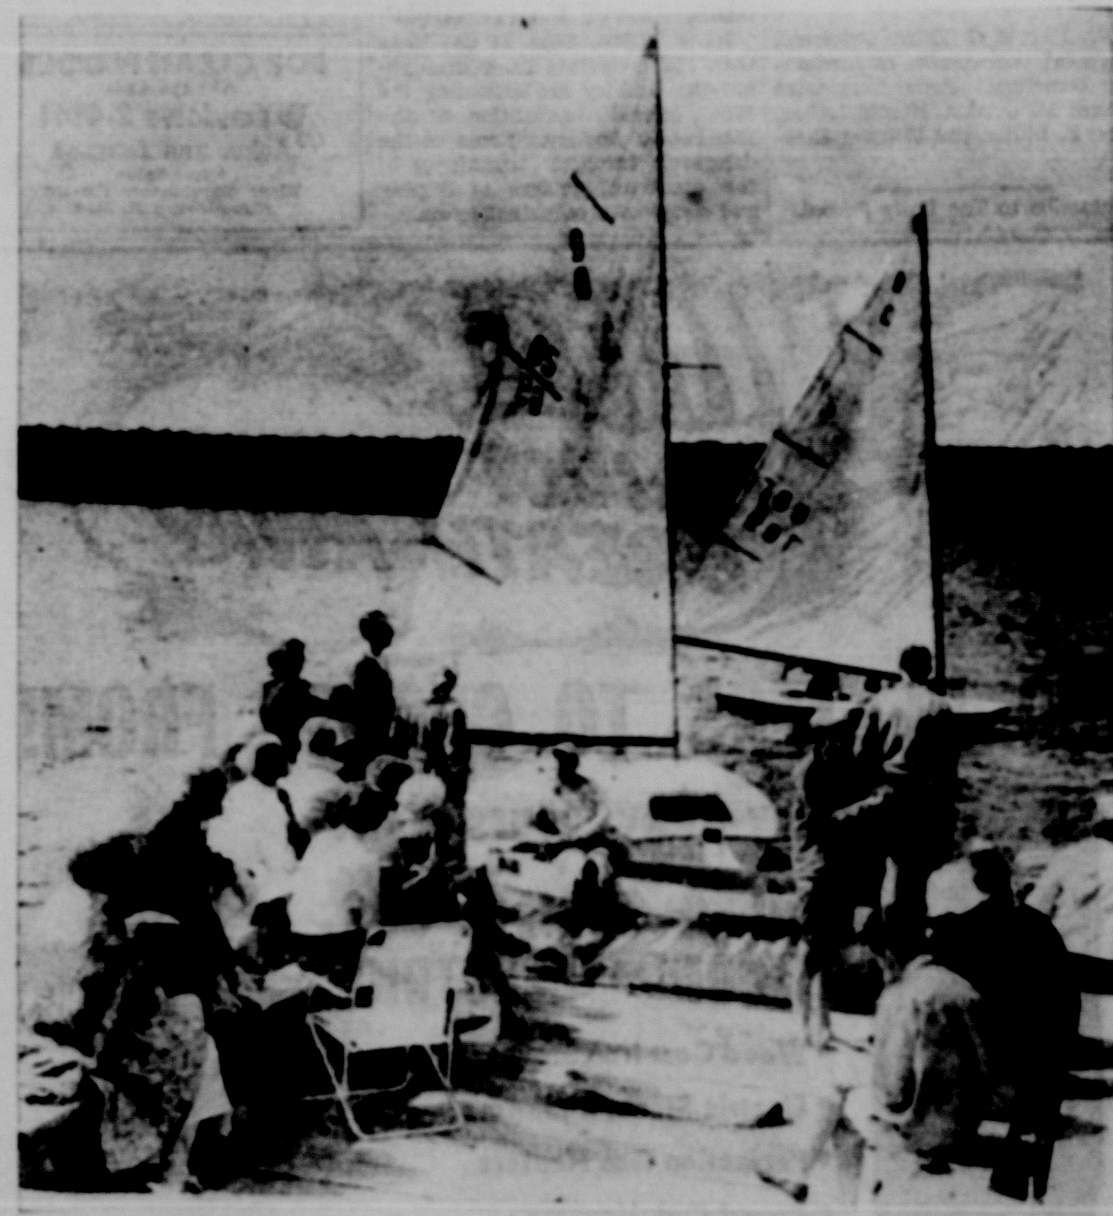

IT'S COLD—Two women spectators remain on shore to cheer for their favorites, but a coat and Indian-like blanket were called upon to keep off the cool breezes that swept over the lake.

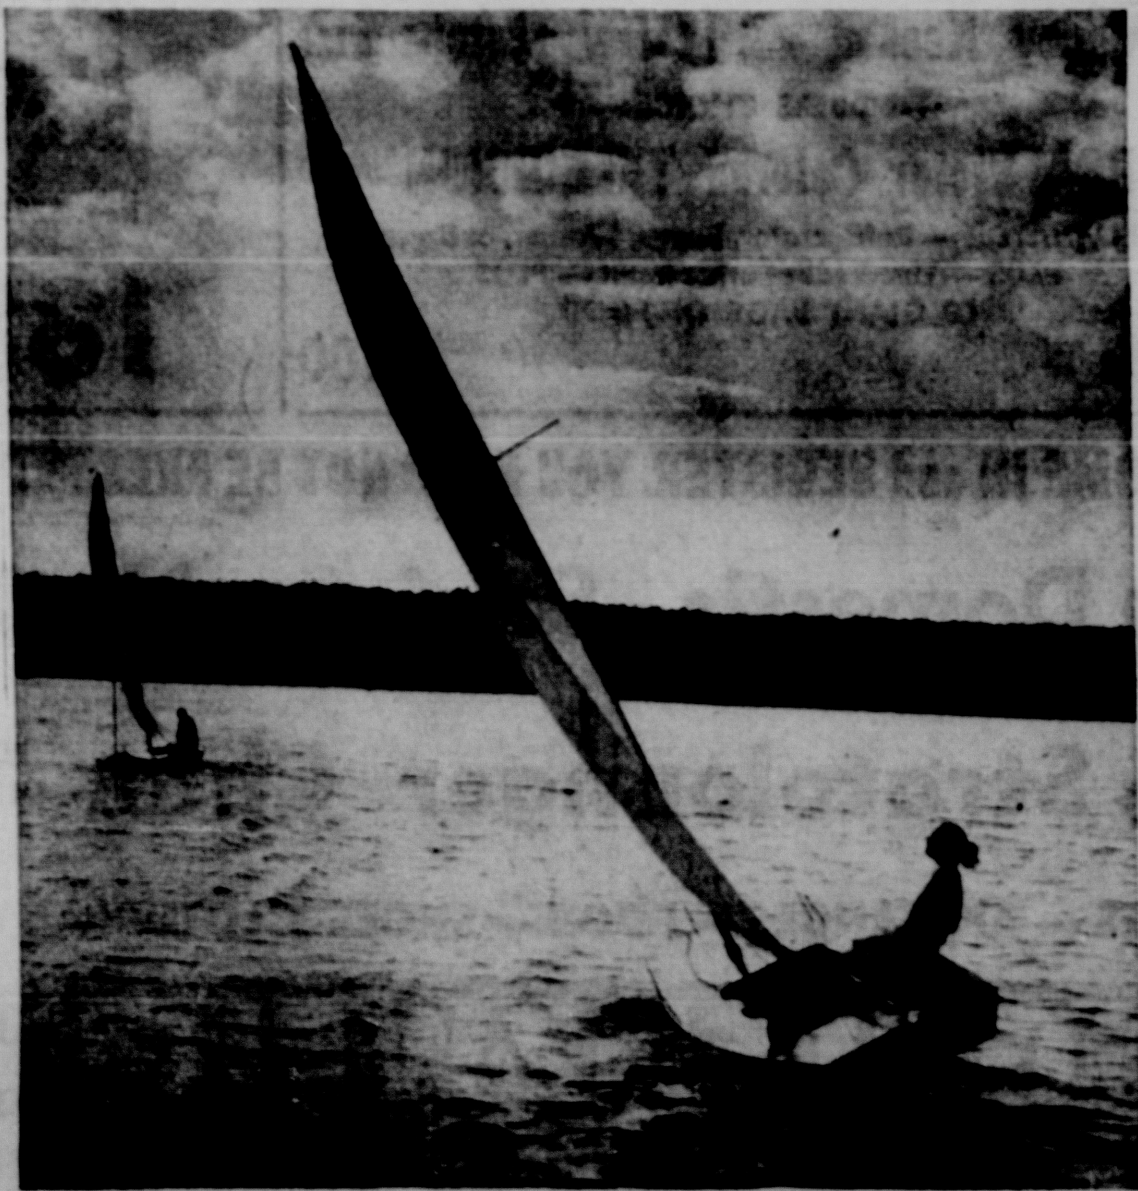

SHARP TURN—One of the "duster" class sail boats in the fourth annual Naomi Lake Sailing Regatta is pictured above making a sharp turn on the course. High winds brought out the best in each of the skippers.

GOOD LUCK—Well wishers crowd to the pier to pass on a word of good luck for an entry in the Naomi Lake Sailing Regatta last Sunday. The picture was taken before the large field went to the starting line.

CLOSE—Two of the entries in the Naomi Lake Sailing Regatta are pictured above in a close battle for the number one position during an early portion of the event won by George Stevens, Wyncote, Pa. The woman in the back is just pulling her craft out of a turn.

SAILS ON THE HORIZON—Five "Dusters" swing around Naomi Lake at the fourth annual regatta of the Naomi Lake Sportsmen Association Sunday as sails leave lines of reflection to each boat, identifying the leader and trailers.

Clarence A. DeHaven

DeHaven To Serve On USS Salem

CLARENCE Austin DeHaven, son of Mrs. Gladys Cramer, 72 Henry St., East Stroudsburg, has completed nine weeks of recruit training at the United States Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md. The local sailor, a former student at Stroudsburg High School will spend a 14-day leave with his parents before reporting to Brooklyn, N. Y. for duty on the USS Salem. Seaman DeHaven successfully completed the transition from civilian to military life which included instruction in, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, firefighting, military bearing, military drill, shipboard drill, and citizenship. The Stroudsburg Bluejacket enlisted in Stroudsburg for three years, and was sworn in at Philadelphia. He is a member of the Methodist Church and is a member of Navy company 268.

8,000 Ink Petition

BRADFORD, Sept. 11 (AP)—The "Save Route 6 Committee" announced today the organization has requested an appointment with Gov. Leader and Highway Secretary Lawler to present petitions favoring retention of Route 6 on the federal highway system. Perry G. Garvin of Bradford, chairman of the committee, said the petitions have been signed by more than 8,000 people.

Communities
The committee is an organization representing some 40 communities along Route 6. It was formed after Gov. Leader announced the state Highway Department planned a central Pennsylvania route linking Sharon and Stroudsburg. This route would take the place of Route 6 as part of the federal interstate highway system. Garvin is executive vice president of the McKean County Motor Club.

Carrier Joins Fleet

ATSUGI, Japan, Sept. 11 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard, streamlined and equipped with a new angled flight deck, hurricane bow and steam catapults, has joined the U. S. 7th Fleet at this naval station southwest of Tokyo. The carrier saw service in World War Two and in the Korean War.

Chamber Plans Membership Meetings

SETTING a second precedent within little more than six months, the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce will hold monthly full membership meetings at the various industries of the area, it was announced yesterday by Walter S. Peeney, Chamber of Commerce president.

The 142 members of the Vacation Bureau, which is allied to the chamber, will be asked to join the chamber members on those visitations.

The Pocono chamber deviated from the usual line for the first time last January when it established monthly full membership meetings instead of just the usual cozy board of directors meetings.

Industrial

The first industrial visitation will be made at Line Material Co., nationwide producers of pole line hardware and electrical transmission equipment, on Sept. 17.

Other industrial tours contemplated by the Pocono chamber include those of Hughes Printing Co., well-known national publication printers; the International Boiler Works Co., LaBar's famed Rhododendron Nursery; the new installations of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. and the Metropolitan Edison Co.; Paradise Brook Trout Hatchery; the Patterson-Kelley Co., Inc., manufacturers of heat transfer equipment; the Worthington Mower Co.; the new plant of the Ronson Corporation of Pennsylvania, manufacturers of the famed Ronson lighters; the U. S. Signal Depot of Tobyhanna, largest installation of its kind in the world, and, among many others, Fred Waring's Waring Enterprises, Inc., music publishers.

John E. Counterman

WILL YOUR WIFE BE A WIDOW THIS YEAR

because somebody wanted ALL of the road?

Every day, in communities all over America, scores of wives become widows—suddenly—because of traffic accidents that don't have to happen!

Why do these tragedies strike?

Because someone behind the wheel wants all the road?

Because a fool in a car wants to show off his horsepower?

This year alone, over 40,000 men, women and children will lose their lives on our roads and highways, according to the present accident rate!

Yet most of these deaths can be prevented.

All it needs is your cooperation . . . cooperation that can save your own life, or the life of someone in your family.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP STOP TRAFFIC DEATHS NOW

First—Drive safely and courteously yourself. Watch traffic and pedestrians carefully. Observe speed limits and warning signs. Whoever drivers stay alert and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!

Second—Talk to your neighbors—to your church, PTA, union or lodge groups. Get them to urge your police and courts to enforce the law strictly. In just three months, one state alone reduced traffic deaths 14%, while national rates rose 11%! It was done by automatically suspending licenses—by literally taking the violators off the road! Whoever enforcement is strict, deaths go DOWN!

Third—Ask for extra policing where needed . . . for better roads, street lighting and signs . . . for safety training in your schools. Whoever the public actively supports a community safety program, deaths go DOWN!

Fourth—Urge your own local safety council to work with state and national groups for uniform traffic laws and enforcement. Your community newspaper, and radio and TV station will be glad to cooperate in promoting over-all safety laws. Whoever everyone understands the law, deaths go DOWN!

START TODAY! Clip this page—and for free reprints, write your Local Safety Council or "Stop Accidents Campaign," National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Illinois. Use your reprints to help you recruit your neighbors for a war against traffic deaths. Your local or state safety group will be glad to assist with programs and organization. If you don't know how to reach them, your newspaper or police force will tell you. The important thing is to do something about it. Every day wasted means more lives wasted! And tomorrow, it may be someone you know or love.

St. Luke's Catholic Church Scene Of Pretty Wedding

St. Luke's Catholic Church was the scene of the early fall wedding of Miss Marielene Joan Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Coleman, of 23 Barry St., Stroudsburg, to John Lincoln Meunier, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meunier, of Providence, Rhode Island.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Harold G. Durkin on Saturday, September 8 at 11 a. m.

Miss Kathryn Ann Hickey was organist and accompanied Miss Marianne Collins in a violin recital before the mass. Miss Mary Grace sang, "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria," and "Jesus, Jesus, Come To Me" during the mass, accompanied by Miss Collins and Miss Hickey. At the conclusion of the mass, the bride placed her bouquet on the altar while Miss Grace sang "Mother, at Thy Feet is Kneeling."

The church was decorated with white gladioli.

James Coleman Jr., and Thomas Leonard Jr., served as altar boys.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of candlelight peau de soie and chastity lace. The bodice, of lace, had a Queen Anne neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands and was encased in lace and seed pearls. The bell-shaped skirt of peau de soie had a crushed cummerbund and a cathedral train with a panel of accordion pleating enclosed in a tuck caught, from waist to hem with bows of peau de soie. The entire skirt was appliqued with lace embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Her French illusion veil fell from a crown of re-embroidered chastity lace trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of large white chrysanthemums caught with a satin ribbon.

Miss Suzanne Coleman was her sister's maid-of-honor. The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Kent Miller, also a sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Collins, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., cousin of the bride, Misses Jane Kennedy and Joan Dowling, both of Stroudsburg. Their floor-length gowns of tulle and gold daisies and green, gold and pumpkin colored wheat tied with green ribbon. The matron-of-honor's bouquet was of gold pumpkins and green wheat tied with a gold ribbon and the bridesmaids carried bouquets of gold pumpkins and green wheat tied with a gold ribbon.

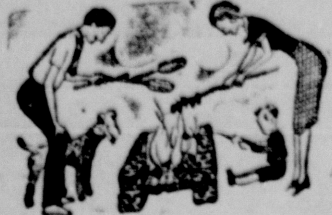

The maid of honor carried a bouquet of bronze and gold daisies and green, gold and pumpkin colored wheat tied with green ribbon. The matron-of-honor's bouquet was of gold pumpkins and green wheat tied with a gold ribbon and the bridesmaids carried bouquets of gold pumpkins and green wheat tied with a gold ribbon.

Joseph Whelan served as best man. Ushers were Kent Miller, James Murphy, Edward Sugars and Charles McCarthy. All were attired in black cutaway coats and striped trousers.

The bride's mother wore a sheath dress of Dior blue lace over tulle with a black fishnet panel and bodice embroidered with pearls and rhinestones. Her hat was of navy blue velvet and trimmed with small navy satin bows. Her other accessories were also of navy blue.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Roger Acker's orchestra furnished music for dancing.

ESSTC Student Married In Allentown Saturday

The wedding of Miss Shirley Paulding Griffith and Robert Carroll Alsop took place on Saturday, September 1 at St. Catharine of Siena Church, Allentown.

The bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. E. George Griffith, 844 N. 25th St., Allentown.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Patrick Alsop, 427 N. 5th St., Stroudsburg. The Rev. John J. McNamara officiated.

The bride was attired in a candlelight satin gown with a cathedral length train. The bodice of imported Belgian lace with seed pearls matched the heirloom Belgian lace in her crown. The heirloom Belgian lace has been inherited by brides in the family and is approximately 150 years old. She carried a prayer book with butterfly orchids.

She was attended by her cousins, Mrs. William Hollett, matron of honor, and Elizabeth Pope, senior bridesmaid.

They wore lantern green, floor-length tulle dresses with matching crowns and carried crescent-shaped yellow and bronze bouquets.

The junior bridesmaid, Miss Diane Marie Griffith, niece of the bride, wore a blue tulle dress and carried a bouquet matching those of the senior attendants.

Thomas Shanley was the best man. Ushers were Harry McAlvey and Leonard Randolph.

A reception was held at the bride's home immediately following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Leesburg High School, Leesburg, Virginia and attended the Women's College of the University of North Carolina. She studied further at the Montreal Neurological Institute, Montreal, Canada. She is presently engaged in basic and clinical neurological research.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. He served with the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army and as an interpreter-translator in Germany. He plans to continue his studies at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College this fall.

The couple will reside in East Stroudsburg.

Local Methodist Pastor Married In Macon, Georgia

Miss Frances Erin Turner, daughter of Mrs. Frances T. Turner, 4180 Thomaston Road, Macon, Georgia, and Philip S. Hanni, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hanni, of Washington, Kansas, were united in marriage on August 26 at 3:30 p. m., at the Cherokee Heights Methodist Church of Macon, Georgia.

Rev. Ray Adams and Rev. Allen Sanders performed the ceremony. William C. Turner gave his sister in marriage. She was attired in a gown of chastity lace with illusion yoke, collar and lace rising from sweetheart neckline. The skirt of scalloped lace over net finished with double flounce of net and lace and net extended into a chapel-length train. An illusion veil, fingertip length, fell from a cap of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white ivory-covered Bible, a gift of the groom with white orchid and tube roses on it.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of dusty rose with matching accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. Immediately after the wedding a reception, given by the bride's mother, was held in the church parlors. Decorations were pink flowers with bleached magnolia leaves and candleabra with pink tapers and a wedding cake in pink and white. Mrs. Ed Harvey, of Arlington, Virginia, played the piano during the reception and Mrs. Randolph Rogan kept the bride's book.

The couple left on a wedding tour through the mountains of Northern Georgia and to Washington, D. C. For traveling, the bride chose a dress of beige and brown cotton shantung with hat and gloves of avocado. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The bride received her A. B. degree from the Georgia State College for Women, class of 1955. She is at present working on her M. A. degree in Religious Education at Drew Theological Seminary, and working part-time in the Alumni office there.

The bridegroom received his A. B. degree from the University of Kansas, class of 1955 and is presently studying at Drew Theological Seminary. He is the pastor of the Methodist Churches of Portland and Delaware Water Gap.

District Meeting At Penn-Stroud September 26

The Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs is currently engaged in making plans for the Northeast District meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Stroudsburg at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on September 26. The eleven counties comprising the Northeast District are: Bradford, Carbon, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Lehigh, Wyoming, Monroe, Northampton, Susquehanna and Wayne. There will be representatives of 88 senior clubs and 21 junior clubs from these counties at the conference. Any member of a club belonging to the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs of the Northeast District is eligible to attend.

Members from the Stroudsburg Woman's Club, Junior Woman's Club, Stroud Community Club, Saylorburg Progressive Women's Club, Barrett Community Club, Barrett Women's Club and the Keystone Community Club of Matamoras are urged to participate in the day's interesting schedule of events.

Registration will take place from 9:30 a. m. to 10:00 a. m. During the day, Mrs. Woodrow Matern, president of the PFWC and Mrs. Lynn Hunter, 3rd vice president and junior leader of the PFWC will serve as guest speakers. Highlight of the program will be the appearance of Mr. Salom Risk, well-known lecturer and author who will describe himself as "The Syrian Yankee." Several workshops are planned, details of which will be announced at a later date.

Mrs. George Trexler, Northeast District Vice President will be in charge of the conference and all wishing to attend must make their reservations by September 24 through their various club presidents who will in turn make final arrangements with Mrs. Edward Knob, the new treasurer of the Monroe County Federation.

The clubs of the Monroe County Federation will serve as hostesses and each club is busy engaged in assuming their share of the responsibility in making the event an unprecedented success. The conference serves as an opportunity for all to learn the plans of the federation for the coming year, to enjoy interesting speakers and to share problems and experiences of club work with the women from 11 neighboring counties.

Fashion Show Sponsored By Y-Gradale

The Y-Gradale are starting off their year of activity by sponsoring a Fashion Show to be held Thursday night at 8 p. m. at the YMCA. N. B. Wyckoff Store will furnish the fashions.

The public is invited and tickets are available from members and at the door Thursday night. There will be about twenty models to exhibit the latest in fall fashions.

The club is also making preparations to be host to the State Y-Gradale convocation to be held Oct. 13 and 14 here. The club has their first business meeting next Monday night with a covered dish supper at the YMCA.

If it hadn't been that the girls of our hosiery department were looking out for their best interests, many of our teen age customers would have missed out on Burlington hosiery's offer of a pair of 1.65 Camo stretch stockings FREE this past Saturday. "I never read the newspaper," was the comment of all too many girls—and that's their error. It pays Wyckoff customers to keep in touch with the activities of their favorite store by reading the ads EVERY DAY because, even when we're SELLING, we're very often giving the stuff away! . . . Ben Herzfeld, Burlington hosiery's sales representative for Northeastern Pennsylvania, tells me that, while the company's fashion coordinators advise them that fall apparel will be darker in color than heretofore, the preference will be for lighter hosiery. That's why Burlington's Rachelle, Mauresque, and Rose Beige will continue to color out advertisements. He also reports that, while 12% of last year's hosiery production was stretch, Burlington's output was 26% stretch, proving that this type of stocking is becoming increasingly popular with discriminating girls and women. . . . Some of the loveliest blouses in our first floor blouse department are of cream colored crepe de chine elaborately embroidered on collar, sleeves, and front. As is true of most foreign made blouses, they run larger than those of American make, and these are—to paraphrase our language—"strictly from Hungary" . . . Santa Claus is not just on his way, he's HERE, in the form of felt bean bags that double as pin cushions and are priced at 1.75. You'll find these, along with our Franklin trim display, in the center aisle, where you'll also find gold braided frogs for dusters and such at 80c each. . . . Enough for today. Why wear out my typewriter ribbon at one sitting when there's tomorrow?

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

ROAMIN' CANDLES: Gloria Vanderbilt's play "The Spa" may have been a disappointment, but her appearance and clothes were not. She is beautiful; they were stunning. One of her gowns was in an exquisite shade of orchid, with ankle length, softly draped skirt, and off-the-shoulder neckline. But perhaps her most striking attire was a negligee of bright orange with a wide front panel that combined light green, yellow, and a rather bright pink. Most of us would never dream of using pink and orange together, but on vividly brunette Gloria it was quite acceptable. . . . Another unusual color combination that impressed me during my recent wanderings was the pumpkin-toned gowns and rust-colored flowers worn at the marriage of Marielene Coleman and John Meunier. When it is becoming, this pumpkin shade so suited to fall, is exquisite—but it does demand a very definite coloring in the wearer. Sallow or olive skinned girls shouldn't be caught dead in it, but should confine its use to gloves, handbags and other high style accessories. Our Wyckoff glove department features all of the brilliant new tones, including a particularly attractive green called Moss Leaf. . . . To return to the Coleman wedding (and I wish I could, it was that lovely!) I'd vote Claire as the calmest Mother of the Bride I've ever seen. This is particularly due to practice, since Marielene is the family's second bride. "The truth is," her mother admits, "I sobbed so hard when my first daughter married, the entire family threatened me." It paid off! She seemed to be having as pleasant a time as her guests. As for fathers—well, her husband deserves a special medal of honor for the way he paused half way up the aisle and bent over to smile reassuringly at the bride, a fleeting moment which brought a big, answering smile to her pretty but serious face. It's "little" big moments like these that remain in your memory long after the tumult and the shouting have died.

If it hadn't been that the girls of our hosiery department were looking out for their best interests, many of our teen age customers would have missed out on Burlington hosiery's offer of a pair of 1.65 Camo stretch stockings FREE this past Saturday. Pocono Community Concerts Association Makes Plans For Autumn, Winter Seasons

Donald B. Corson

WITH THE Summer over and the chill breezes of Autumn in the air, one begins to think of the indoor activities that make up many of our leisure time moments during the Autumn and Winter months. And so, we think back over the years on those events in our community that we have so enjoyed and look forward to their return for another year.

The people of the Stroudsburg and vicinity have been most fortunate for the past quarter century in having Pocono Community Concerts Association function in the area. This organization, along with others, has helped to furnish a part of the cultural activity of which we in the twin boroughs are so proud. The Association likes to think that it has been responsible for presenting many fine musical programs and many renowned artists. In so doing, our communities are able to enjoy the best in musical performances on our own doors.

The Pocono Community Concert Association will again present a series of concerts this year and the Board of Directors has made plans to present four more outstanding musical events this season. One feature of the series will be the celebrated American tenor Eugene Conley, a young man of great talent and an international following. Conley made his operatic debut in 1956 in the two most important opera capitals of the world — La Scala, Milan and the Metropolitan in New York City. In both instances, he was triumphantly received and followed with appearances in the leading opera and concert halls of Europe and America by popular demand. Native trained and an inspired artist, Conley brings a profound depth of feeling to his singing and a warmth in his expression that is long remembered by those who have heard him. Another feature of the series this season is the unusual quintet of harpists, known as the Angelaires. This unique group of artists has endeared itself to its audience everywhere it has appeared. Each harpist is a master of her instrument and the ensemble produces a quality of music that has been described as "from the heavenly spheres."

The local association will open its campaign the week of Sept. 17 with headquarters in the Penn-Stroud Hotel and run for six full days. During these days, the citizens of the area will have an opportunity to subscribe for the forthcoming series. In this way, each one will insure the continuance of this cultural activity in his community and, at the same time, anticipate enjoyment of some of the world's finest music performed by some of the world's greatest artists.

Game Night To Be Held At Barrett YMCA

MOUNTAINHOME—A card party and game night will be held at the Barrett Branch YMCA here next Tuesday at 8 p.m. The proceeds will be for the completion of the basketball court and driveway.

The president of the Barrett Branch, E. Kenny Crothers, has appointed Mrs. Lena F. Swaine as chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Theodore M. Price, Mrs. John F. Henry and Jacob Conley.

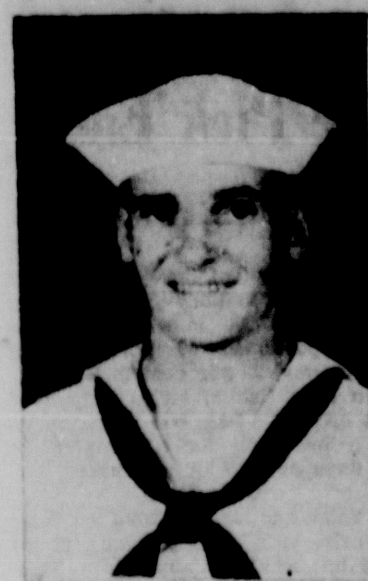

Formal Event

This is the first formal event in the program of the Barrett Branch for the coming season, and will be the occasion of introducing William A. McDonnell, newly appointed branch executive, to the community. McDonnell assumed these duties as of September 10, succeeding Carlton C. Chopp, who left this area to assume a post with the Cleveland YMCA.

McDonnell and his wife and children are now living in Mountainhome.

Rupert Hughes Expires

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11 (AP)—Rupert Hughes, 81, distinguished author-historian and an uncle of multimillionaire Howard Hughes, died at his home here today.

Donald W. Gontz

Gontz To Serve On USS Pandemus

DONALD William Gontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Widmer, Stroudsburg RD 2, has completed nine weeks of recruit training at the United States Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md. The local sailor, a former student at Stroudsburg High, will spend a 14-day leave with his mother before reporting to Charleston, S. C. for duty on the USS Pandemus. Seaman Gontz successfully completed the transition from civilian to military life which included instruction in seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, firefighting, military bearing, military drill, shipboard drill, and citizenship. The Stroudsburg Bluejacket enlisted in Stroudsburg for four years, and was sworn in at Philadelphia. He is a member of Navy Company 268.

To Extend Service

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad announced today that it will extend its truck-trailer hauling service between the southwest and New York, Philadelphia and other eastern point, beginning Saturday.

FOOTBALL really takes a toll on the community. Friday night when head coaches at both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg high schools unveil their 1956 products for public consumption.

At Gordon Giffels Field, Stroudsburg, John Whitehead will show off his Stroudsburg high eleven when they take on Lehigh Valley under the lights, starting at 8 p. m., while Jack Kist's East Stroudsburg team invades Slatington for a battle under the arcs, also at 8 p. m.

From now until 12 noon Thanksgiving Day the fanfare at both schools will be at a high pitch. And for our money that's the way it should be—rooting and demonstrating for each team of choice.

However, we hope John Q. Public doesn't go overboard and tear down in a few minutes what it took the head coaches and their assistants a month to build up.

The kids representing Eastburg and the 12th street institutions are only boys. They'll make mistakes, some more than the others. But they will be honest mistakes that only can be corrected by experience.

When we go out to the ballpark we should remember our eyes are focusing on youngsters not professionals. No one is getting anything from school sports but the alms that come from the training received. And they are priceless.

The linemen on a high school eleven work harder than the big boys in National Football League ranks. They have to because things come harder for them at the early athletic stage of the grid sport than those endowed with years of experience.

So many times the back on the scholastic team misses the called holt. Not because he's afraid or because it was plugged up, but because the finish product is not finished yet. And as many times as the back does pull a so-called booboo, just as many catches can be heard defeating the entire purpose of the game.

Football is a great sport and from a physical standpoint the roughest of them all. The big game on Friday night is more or less the climax to one week of back-breaking drills.

It would be a shame to have the diehards put a crimp in such an effort on a boys' part. They deserve a much better fate.

We'll go along with Douglas MacArthur's quote, "There is no substitute for victory." But we like the late Grantland Rice's better, "It makes no difference whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game that counts."

If one could merge the words of Rice and MacArthur we'd have another phenom, maybe if the fans could strike a happy medium with the quotes, then the youngsters within easy hearing distance might benefit from the result.

Personally we like to win but we also like to see the game and the surroundings run not according to Hoyle. That is forget sometimes to call a spade a spade.

QUICK PICKUP—Armen Williams, the Daily Record's new correspondent in Bangor, is no Johnny-come-lately to the sports beat. Armen, one of the Lehigh Valley's diamond experts, served for years as secretary of the Blue Mountain Baseball League.

He noted the other day that the circuit, in which Stroudsburg was represented at one time, enjoyed its best season this year.

Reports from the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College campus say that Charley German has not lost any of his football touch. German is going through workouts with Eugene Martin's Warriors and onlookers note that the former Whitehall High basketball ace will be a main cog in the ESSTC grid machine this season.

Dodgers To Tour Hawaii And Japan

BROOKLYN, Sept. 9 (AP)—President Walter F. O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers announced today he had completed negotiations for his world champions to tour Hawaii, Japan and United States military bases at Okinawa immediately after the 1956 World Series.

The trip will be sponsored by Yomiuri Shimbun, one of the leading Japanese newspapers. Storo Suzuki represented the newspaper in its dealings with the Dodgers.

Leave Oct. 10
The Dodger party will leave New York on Oct. 10 and depart from San Francisco Oct. 11. The team will play 3 games in the Hawaiian Islands, 20 in Japan and 2 at Okinawa. The Dodgers will return to the United States Nov. 17.

Defensive halfback Milt Davis of the Detroit Lions always played defense during his three-year career at U.C.L.A.

Robinson Ties Record In Cincy Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Rookie Frank Robinson equalled the major league home run record for a first-year player and Ed Bailey clouted a grand-slam home run as the third-place Cincinnati Redlegs drubbed the New York Giants 11-5 today to clinch their slim hopes of overtaking the National League leaders.

The Redlegs pounded four Giant hurlers for 14 hits, including home runs by Robinson, Bailey and Ted Kluszewski.

Robinson's homer was his 33rd of the season, which not only tied Brooklyn's Duke Snider for the league lead but matched the first-year record of Wally Berger of the 1930 Boston Braves. The 20-year-old outfielder also chipped in with two singles and scored three runs.

2nd Grand Slam
Bailey's grand slammer, his second of the campaign, came in the third. The blow enabled the Redlegs to overcome a 3-2 deficit and sent Joe Margoneri to the showers with his sixth defeat. The Giants' rookie southpaw has won five Cincinnati's first two runs had come in the opening inning when Johnny Temple walked and scored when Kluszewski smote his 35th four-bagger of the year.

Larry Jansen, former Giant pitching star facing his former mates for the first time since his purchase by Cincinnati last month, lasted only one inning. After Don Mueller hit his first pitch for a home run, singles by Red Schoendienst and Bill Sarni, sandwiched around a double by Jackie Brandt, produced three runs to give the Giants a 3-2 lead.

Fowler Wins
Art Fowler took over the pitching duties for the Reds in the second and held the Giants in check until the sixth when Sarni's two-run homer reduced Cincinnati's lead to 9-8. Fowler received credit for his 11th victory against 10 defeats but he ran into trouble again in the seventh and had to be bailed out by Herschel Freeman.

The three homers boosted the Reds' season total to 291, making them the third team in major league history to top the 290 mark. The Giants, with 221 in 1947 and the Dodgers, with 208 in 1953, are the others to achieve the feat.

Braves Sign Haney To New 1-Year Pact

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today signed Manager Fred Haney to a new one-year contract for 1957.

The signing took place after Haney and General Manager John Quinn conferred prior to the league-leading Braves' pivotal two-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight.

Both Quinn and Owner Lou Perini said they were "delighted" that the 58-year-old Haney will be at the helm next year.

Quinn Lauds
"He did a fine job," Quinn said of Haney who led the Braves from fifth place, four games behind, into first place in a matter of weeks after relieving Charlie Grimm as pilot on June 16 in New York.

The boy wonder of the big leagues, Feller posed in 1937 showing his fabulous pitching arm.

At the peak of his career Feller served Uncle Sam. Here he is pitching for a U. S. Navy team.

RAPID ROBERT HONORED—Bob Feller, the young farm boy who fireballed his way to fame with the Cleveland Indians marked 20 years in baseball when he was honored Sunday at Municipal Stadium, Cleveland. Feller, now used sparingly in relief, broke in with the Tribe in 1936 and became the club's star pitcher and strikeout

After fanning 18 Detroit Tigers to set modern major league strikeout record in 1938.

Feller enjoys surprise party in Washington in July this year, marking his 20th anniversary.

artist. Six times he won 20 or more games. He had his career interrupted by more than three years in the service. Prior to this season he had won 266 games in the big time and has three no-hit games to his credit.

Thoroughbred Trainer Hirsch Rates Assault

SYOSSET, N. Y.—Max Hirsch is a Texan who came to New York to make fame as a thoroughbred trainer by way of the Kentucky Derby.

Three of the horses he saddled won the Derby but one of his biggest surprises came on Max's 76th birthday. He was invited to a small dinner on Long Island and was astonished when welcomed by 175 racing people, some of whom had followed his career since he was 10 and worked on a ranch near Fredericksburg, Tex., where he was born.

Herbert Bayard Swope, former chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, was master of ceremonies and presented Max with a 102-page call-in-bound book. It was his biography. It was the only one published.

Hirsch left Texas when he was 12. Barefooted, he climbed aboard a horse car. He became a lightweight jockey and at 17 he turned to training. He's been at it ever since.

3 Jockeys There

The boys who rode his three Derby winners were on hand. So was Eddie Arcaro, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, 81-year-old dean of the trainers and Preston M. Burch who has been saddling winners since 1902.

Hirsch rates Assault, King Ranch's Derby winner of 1946, as the best horse he ever trained. He also had Bold Venture, 20 to 1, with Ira Hanford up, in 1936, and Midleground, with Willie Boland up, in 1950. He rates Arcaro as the best money rider.

Recalls Wager

Speaking of money, Hirsch recalls July 4, 1921 when he sent out Sideral, a maiden, and told New York gambler Arnold Rothstein that the horse was ready to win.

Rothstein, through agents, made enough bets to win $770,000. "Everybody had Liberty Bonds in those days," says Max. "The bookmakers at the track did a lot of paying off with them. I had a trunk full after that race."

Gas Suh, Jr., son of the former Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman, belongs to the Yankees and is in their farm system.

Varsity 'E' To Hold Rally

VARISITY 'E' Club of East Stroudsburg will hold a pep rally at Memorial Stadium, tomorrow night at 8 p. m.

The session will serve as a kick-off for the East Stroudsburg High School Cavaliers who will meet Slatington High away Friday in its 1956 grid inaugural.

President Rex Nauman urges all members of the organization to turn out for the rally at the Cavaliers' home field.

The Maryland Futurity, held each year at Laurel, is the oldest stakes race in Maryland for two-year olds bred and foaled in that state.

Tigers Score 9 In Fourth, Blank Nats 12-0 Behind Lary

DETROIT, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers backed Frank Lary's strong two-hit pitching with 14 hits, 8 of them producing 9 runs in the fourth inning, in a 12-0 rout of the Washington Senators today.

Lary overcame an early streak of wildness and recorded victory No. 17, keeping alive his hopes of becoming Detroit's first 20-game winner since Hal Newhouser turned the trick in 1948.

Retired Last 15

The 25-year-old right-hander retired the last 15 batters and the only Washington safeties were a fourth-inning double by Roy Sievers and a fifth-inning single by Jose Valdivielso.

Dean Stone, the Washington starter, contributed to his own downfall with three errors. After Ray Boone clubbed his 20th home run in the second, Stone committed two errors in the third. The Tigers paired these with two walks and a single for another run.

Fourteen batters came to the plate in the Tiger fourth. Mixed into the long inning were seven singles, a triple by Frank Bolling, two walks and another error by Stone.

Pocono LL Meets Tomorrow

MOUNT POCONO—A meeting of the Pocono Mountain Little League will be held at Mount Pocono school here tomorrow, starting at 8 p. m.

The election of officers will highlight the session which will bring together all managers, other interested persons and officials.

LeRoy T. Green

LeRoy Green Sent To Corry Field

LEROY T. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Green, Kunkletown RD., has completed nine weeks of recruit training at the United States Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md. The local sailor, a former student at Polk High School, will spend a 14-day leave with his parents before reporting to Corry Field, Pensacola, Fla., for duty. Seaman Green successfully completed the transition from civilian to military life which included instruction in, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, firefighting, military bearing, military drill, shipboard drill, and citizenship. The Kunkletown Bluejacket enlisted in Stroudsburg for four years, and was sworn in at Philadelphia. He is a member of St. John's Reformed Church and is a member of Navy Company 268.

First Ambassador

BERN, Sept. 11 (AP)—Switzerland has always shunned the luxury of having ambassadors. Ministers were enough, it said. But under a new Federal Council ruling, it's about to send out its first ambassador. Alfred Zehnder, veteran Swiss diplomat, No. 2 man for years in the Swiss political department, and fluent in Russian, is expected to be the first Swiss ambassador abroad—in Moscow.

Holy Name Society To Hold Meeting

ST. MATTHEW'S Holy Name Society will hold its first meeting of the year 1956-1957 today at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. At this meeting the program for each meeting of the coming year will be outlined by the program chairman Anthony Archer. Martin Kearney is the co-chairman.

Speaker Father William Cusek, of the Pocono Missions, will be the guest speaker.

All men of the parish and their friends are invited. Thomas Leonard, who is chairman of the meeting, expects a large turnout.

A turkey buffet lunch will be served after the meeting.

Bargain Day In Mineola Traffic Court

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—It was bargain day in traffic court today.

Andrew T. Hewitt, 57, said he had only $20 after being fined $25 for driving without a license.

Going Down "All right, I'll make your fine $20," said Judge Lyman D. Hall. Hewitt found he had only $19.

The fine was reduced to $19. Then Hewitt complained this would leave him no money to get home on, and the judge cut the fine to $18.
